Supported by the legends of the Australian aborigines and a remarkable woman. Reaching for the stars to discover the true meaning of courage, Robert Richards chief astronomer at Mount Stromlo observatory, Canberra is suffering a life crisis when he meets Rebecca Jones an optical lens engineer and artist. Robert has suffered a very turbulent past and has difficulties getting his life on line. He grew up with a strong contact to the Australian aborigines and two of his best friends Wootara and Birribirri are aborigines too. As an adolescent he experiences for the first time the Brolga dance a dance that leads the dancer into the Dreamtime where it is possible to change something burdening you in your life. He does not complete the ritual. Through his relationship to Rebecca and the tragic death of his best friend Wootara he learns more about his personality and personal challenges but still remains caught up in his tragic past. He takes his life in his own hands for the first time...

Reviews

Absolutely among the finest pdf I have got possibly read. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
