Internal medication in the form of strychnia and bromids may occasionally be of some service, but is not to be relied upon. A complete change of scene and mode of life, with rather strenuous, healthful exercise and plain diet, give the best results. MALINGERING (SIMULATED DEAFNESS). Among the neuroses there are various types of malingering which are difficult to differentiate from actual disease. The underlying motives are either of a hysterical nature or are dishonest attempts to feign deafness for the purpose of avoiding service in various capacities, work in general, or blackmail to collect damages. Simulated deafness may be recognized by various methods. It is important that the otologist, who is often called upon to determine the true facts, be able...
