Excerpt: .occupation, male and female as above, amounted to 25,220. The above table also shows the degree of instruction of each person taken into custody. Those who could neither read nor write amounted to 23,938; those who could read only, or read and write imperfectly, were 37,551; those who could read and write well, 8,121; and those of superior instruction, were 1,107, thus showing that in proportion to education, crime diminished. We proceed to present our annual tabular view of the pecuniary circumstances of our religious Societies. It seems to indicate some little increased attention to the wants of Home, but a diminution of exertion for foreign objects. Society s Name.
